September 3
Ali Chambliss
Acoustic folk/Americana

Vermont based Singer-Songwriter Ali Chambliss brings a palpable warmth and open heart with her wherever her travels take her. You can hear it in her beautiful voice and within the melodic air that she creates with each well crafted song. Her songs draw us in and reach into our human condition which then play us through the light and the dark.

Mieka Pauley is the winner of the first ever Starbucks Emerging Artist Award, the Rocky Mountain Folk Festival Songwriter Showcase and the Rock Boat/BMI Song Contest. Northeast Performer calls her "a version of Sarah McLachlan with a switchblade in her shoe." The Boston Globe said she's "like Aretha in the husky vocal turns," and The Cornerstone Player dubbed her "the next meaningful female voice of her generation."

October 1
Steve & Johnny Rogers of Mighty Purple
Rock/Indie

Mighty Purple are the creation of brothers Steve and Johnny Rogers from New Haven, Connecticut. They are named after a fortuitous laundry accident and have done strange things with coffin-shaped coffee tables in New York.

Rebecca Loebe is best known for her energetic live performances. Her songbird voice carries the show while her buoyant personality captivates audiences and has them laughing, shouting and singing along. Fans of the Americana/Folk tradition identify with her breezy storytelling while audiences of mainstream pop/rock sing along to her catchy, confessional original songs.

October 15
Michael Kent
Comedian/Magician

In a style reminiscent of a late-night talk show, Michael invites the audience to laugh with him at the absurdity of a modern-day magician. He combines his sarcastic and irreverent sense of humor with mind-blowing magic in a way that seems to let the audience "in on the joke." As he tours college campuses all over the country, Michael's audiences are experiencing what it's like when a stand-up comic performs (and occasionally pokes fun at) the art of magic.

Matt Barsalou
Folk/Indie

More and more students choose the Midtown Coffeehouse as their choice of entertainment for Thursday nights. Popular for its candlelight ambience and free food, students from all majors and class levels come back every week for an hour of open mic followed by the weekly feature act, ranging from comedy and reggae to rock and folk.

In 2004, bass player Basil Bernard brought together five musicians from various musical backgrounds to recreate the music of the "king of reggae" Bob Marley as the tribute band Due Respect.

November 5
WCSU Faculty/Staff
Talent Showcase
Various artists

You won't want to miss this Coffeehouse as many of our very talented faculty will perform folk music, jazz, poetry, musical theater and much more. This has been a big hit over the past two years with a very special guest MC. Stay tuned for a list of faculty/staff performers.

Pete Lee is an adorable smart mouth with a 10th grade vocabulary. Mixing smart punchlines with a juvenile perspective, he is one of the hottest acts on the college circuit today. In the past two years, Pete has performed at over 100 colleges and universities. This season, Pete is one of the stars of NBC's Last Comic Standing.
