Back in January all employees, except student employees, received an email regarding the CSCU New Learning Management System called NeoGov Learn. This is a new platform that the university uses to track required on-line training courses for employees. This email listed instructions for employees to follow in order to activate their account. Unfortunately, as it turns out many employees failed to activate their accounts. Due to this, earlier today I sent out another email to employees who hadn't activated their accounts yet so they could do so. Below is the email message that you received:

Hello HR Training,

Welcome to CSCU's new online learning management system called NEOGOV LEARN. This LMS replaces FirstNet as CSCU's primary online learning portal for state and CSCU-mandated training and policy review.

Please click on the following link to activate your account. Your user name during log in will be your primary work email address. Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

HR Shared Services
CSCU

If you didn't receive this email that means that you previously activated your account and there is nothing further that you need to do at this time. If you did receive this message then please follow the instructions to activate your account within five (5) days, as the ability to activate it disables at the end of this time period.

If you have any questions please feel free to contact me at 203-837-8665 or via e-mail at crattyf@wcsu.edu.
