Western Connecticut State University
Macricostas School of Arts & Sciences
Social Sciences - Anthropology
Adjunct Teaching Positions – Fall 2021

Western Connecticut State University is pleased to announce applications are being accepted for part-time adjunct teaching positions in the Social Sciences department.

Qualifications: Candidates must possess a Master’s degree or Ph.D. in Anthropology or a related field. Must possess expertise and the ability to teach Anthropology 100: Introduction to Cultural Anthropology, a three (3) credit course. Prior teaching experience at the collegiate level is preferred. Excellent written and oral communication skills are required.

WCSU is committed to enhancing our diverse university community by actively encouraging people with disabilities, minorities, veterans, and women to apply. We take pride in our pluralistic community and continue to seek excellence through diversity and inclusion.

Salary & Benefits: Minimum starting salary will be $1,698 per load credit (or a minimum of $5,094 for a single 3 credit course). Additional information on benefits can be found at www.wcsu.edu/hr/benefits/. Part-time faculty at WCSU are represented by the American Association of University Professors. WCSU is located in Danbury, Connecticut, and is within walking distance of the Danbury station on the Metro North train.

Application Process: Review of applications will begin immediately. Interested applicants must email as attachments - a current curriculum vita, a sample of any student instructor evaluations, and the names and contact information for three (3) professional references to Dr. Christine Hegel, Associate Professor of Anthropology at hegelecantarellac@wcsu.edu. In the subject line, please reference “Adjunct Anthropology”. Application review will begin immediately and continue until the position has been filled.

Western is an Affirmative Action Equal Opportunity Educator/Employer