Position Announcement

Western Connecticut State University
Macricostas School of Arts & Sciences
Department of Philosophy & Humanistic Studies
Adjunct Teaching Positions

Western Connecticut State University is pleased to announce applications are being accepted by the Department of Philosophy & Humanistic Studies for part-time adjunct teaching positions in interdisciplinary studies.

WCSU is committed to enhancing our diverse university community, by actively encouraging people with disabilities, minorities, veterans, and other groups to apply. WCSU takes pride in its pluralistic community and seeks excellence through diversity and inclusion.

Qualifications: A Ph.D. in Interdisciplinary Studies is preferred, but applicants with a Master’s degree in Interdisciplinary Studies or who are ABD will be considered as well as those with graduate degrees in other fields who can demonstrate a background in teaching and/or research in interdisciplinary studies. Prior teaching experience at the university level and the ability to teach introductory and advanced level courses in interdisciplinary studies. Excellent written and oral communication skills are required. We welcome all applicants, including those with the required expertise but desire to teach remotely. Applicants who wish to teach remotely must provide evidence of experience with and effectiveness in online teaching and, if selected, would be able to work from their current location. For a current list of courses offered by the department, please go to https://www.wcsu.edu/philosophy/

Salary & Benefits: Minimum starting salary will be: $1,698 per load credit (or a minimum of $5,094 for a single 3 credit course for those possessing a Master’s degree and $1,857 ($5,571) for those possessing a Ph.D.) Additional information on benefits can be found at www.wcsu.edu/hr/benefits/. Part-time faculty at WCSU are represented by the American Association of University Professors.

Application Process: Interested candidates should e-mail a cover letter, curriculum vitae/resume and at least two sample syllabi in interdisciplinary studies to Dr. Çiğdem Üsekes at usekesc@wcsu.edu. In the subject line, please reference “Interdisciplinary Studies Adjunct.” Application review will begin immediately and continue until the position has been filled.
